

Evaluation of course/workshop: _____

As a student you should always have the opportunity to fill in a course evaluation at the end of a course or workshop. There are of course other ways of getting your opinion across. You can contact your teacher directly, talk to your head teacher or the director of studies. But the course evaluation is one of the best ways for you as a student to influence your education. They give teachers and course supervisors direct feedback on the course and how it can be improved.

(1 = extremely bad, 5 = excellent)

What do you think of the course as a whole?

1 2 3 4 5

Comments:

How were you as a student treated during the course?

1 2 3 4 5

Comments:

What is the most important thing you have learned during the course/workshop?

How could the course/workshop be improved?